

inspired to share your story?

Julia McIntyre,
Community
Wellbeing Service Manager with Inspire Mental Health recently
shared her own experience with the media to help
raise awareness
of wellbeing issues
and the work of Inspire.

If you are a member, service user, staff member or volunteer who would be willing to consider sharing some of your own personal experience in the media to help promote awareness of wellbeing issues, please contact Geoff or Stacey in Inspire's External Affairs team to chat things over.
